INTRODUCTION

hello!

This is where you tell your audience, readers or students who you are, how you started, your journey and what inspired you to create the e-book or workbook, whatever the publication is. It is also where you tell them about your experience and how long you've been in the industry. You tell them why you feel you have gained enough experience to be able to coach them or help them achieve the overall goal of this e-book, guide or handbook.

Best regards,

Kemela Martin

SELF-CARE guide

This space is where you add subheadings and explain them indepthly to your readers and audience. Breaking down your workbook sections and ebook mini sections into subsections will help you create a unique course material that is well explained and planned. Use this space, make each paragraphs long or short.
